

B.I. 08/2022

BOLETÍN INFORMATIVO

Embajada de la República Popular China en Costa Rica

14 de marzo 2022

Correo: protocolo@embchinacr.com
Teléfono: 00506-22914822

Elements of the Initiative on the Humanitarian Situation in Ukraine

First, make sure that humanitarian operations abide by the basic principles of humanity, neutrality and impartiality established in UN General Assembly resolution 46/182, and avoid politicizing humanitarian issue;

Second, give full attention to the displaced persons in and from Ukraine, and in particular provide humanitarian assistance to those countries hosting the displaced persons to help with their proper shelter;

Third, ensure the protection of civilians and in particular protect the rights and interests of vulnerable groups such as women, children, the elderly and persons with disabilities; prevent food shortage, communicable diseases and other secondary humanitarian disasters in Ukraine;

Fourth, provide for smooth and safe humanitarian aid activities, including providing rapid, safe and unimpeded humanitarian access, protect the safety of medical personnel and personnel engaged in medical duties, and protect the medical equipment and transportation used in humanitarian operations and critical civilian infrastructure;

Fifth, provide for the safety of foreign nationals in Ukraine, allow them safe, secure and unrestricted departure and help them return to their home countries; and

Sixth, support the UN's coordinating role in channeling humanitarian aid and the work of the UN Crisis Coordinator for Ukraine.